Shapleigh names Town Administrator

BY JOANNE BARGIONI

Karla Bergeron has been appointed the new Town Administrator of Shapleigh by the Board of Selectman. After her old job description of Executive Secretary was reviewed by the BOS it was determined that Bergeron assumed the role of many positions at the town hall and it was time to consolidate all the titles into one.

Bergeron has worked at the town hall for over 20 years and some of her duties included being the Executive Secretary for the BOS, IT (Information Technology) person, assisting with General Assistance to those in need, Office Manager, Town Health Insurance Overseer, Web Manager, aiding the BOS in following state and local statutes and liaison between other committees and boards to name just a few. Bergeron is excited to begin her new role as Town Administrator.

Family selected for new habitat in Springvale

Habitat for Humanity York County is preparing to begin construction of its 29th home this fall, and recently selected the family to purchase the Springvale home. Richard and Missy Lathrop of Eliot received the news in July that they had been selected for homeownership with Habitat for Humanity.

"Learning about the opportunity to work with Habitat for Humanity and to possibly look to achieve the goal of home ownership was a dream opportunity that we felt for sure would only be a thought and a wish, but never a reality," said Richard. "Since learning that we have been the selected family to take part in this opportunity it has truly been life changing! This house and opportunity for us means stability in our life so that we can provide a constant growing and learning environment for our kids and our family."

Tuskegee Airman honored

BY JOANNE BARGIONI

On Monday, Aug. 27, family and friends gathered at the Southern Maine Veterans Cemetery in Springvale to say farewell to one of the last remaining Tuskegee Airman, MSgt. James Sheppard, Jr. The Tuskegee Airmen were the first black military pilots in the US Army Air Corp, a precursor of the US Air Force. They were trained at the Tuskegee Army Air Field in Alabama and they flew more than 15,000 individual attacks in Europe and North Africa during WWII. History.com states, "Their impressive performance earned them more than 150 Distinguished Flying Crosses and helped encourage the eventual integration of the U.S. Armed Forces." Sheppard was one of 300 airmen to be awarded the Congressional Gold Medal by George W. Bush in 2007.

MSgt. Sheppard was born on Sept. 20, 1924 and died on Aug. 19, 2018 at the Maine Veterans Home in Scarborough. He had four children; Arthur of New York, Robert of Kittery, Eric of Virginia and Cathy Madison of Washington, D.C.

According to the Maine Bureau of Veteran Affairs, MSgt. Sheppard was trained as an Aviation Maintenance Technician and acted as Crew Chief. He was deployed with the Red Tail Squadron to Italy where his skill and leadership played a key role in the success of the group's aerial combat missions.

Eric Sheppard, son of the late MSgt. Sheppard proudly spoke of his father, "He was born in Harlem, New York and enlisted in the Army Air Corp in 1942 at the age of 18." He was already a certified aviation mechanic having trained at the Haaren Aviation Technical School in New York City.

While some of his classmates were hired directly from school, opportunities for an African-American were limited so he chose to enlist in the military. Sheppard was assigned to the 301st Fighter Squadron and shipped overseas. At the time of his enlistment, Sheppard had wanted to be a pilot but because of his training as an aviation mechanic he was assigned to that position at the Tuskegee Army Air Field. After the war in 1945 he worked for various airlines as an aircraft mechanic and served as a reservist for ten years where he earned the rank of Master-Sergeant. He spent the rest of his career

Queen of Hearts Fundraiser

The weather could not have been more perfect on Saturday, Aug. 25 for the annual Queen of Hearts Retirement Fundraiser for retired thoroughbred horses. Tamay Alpander is President of this non-profit organization that provides a safe place for horses to go when their racing days are over. It is a costly endeavor to supply food, veterinary assistance and care to these once great race horses. At the Sanctuary the horses are met with love and attention and rehabilitation. Here they are provided care for injuries, training in skills that may lead to new careers and finding new homes. If horses are not adoptable they will find a forever home with Alpander. They offer horse sponsorship programs that will give the donor the opportunity to help their racehorse with a monthly donations. You can also help by donating feed, grooming tools and supplies. A sponsor can give their time to brush, walk and graze their sponsored horse.

At the fundraiser we met a horse named Shapleigh Benz. Ben, as he is called is a retired Maine bred racehorse who road at Suffolk Downs in Boston. He sustained a terrible injury that could have claimed his life. He is now cared for at the Rocky Knolls Farm on 521 Owl's Nest Road in Shapleigh, home of Queen of Hearts Thoroughbred Retirement (QHTR). Holly and Scooter are also two of the retired racehorses at the farm. They were contently grazing in the paddock along with other horses.

Many activities were offered for the children including bean bag toss and pony rides. There was also a jumping course with live music and a silent auction. T-Shirts were available with the logo of QHTR, along with lucky horseshoes which were decorated and ready for sale. These horseshoes were actually worn by the horses here. A food concession area was available. Of notable interest was the selection of caps from different race tracks that Alpander had participated on. She keeps them as a memento of her racing days as a jockey at some of the largest courses in the U.S.

If you would like more information on the QHTR sanctuary or to learn how to volunteer or donate visit their website at qhtr.org.

Capital Improvement Committee

The Capital Improvement Committee will be holding their monthly meeting at 7 p.m. on Sept. 20 at the town hall. The public is welcome to attend.

SPORTS
Field hockey team even after first two

By MICHAEL DEANGELIS
mdeangelis@waterbororeporter.com

Emma Snyder had two goals and two assists, pacing Massabesic's varsity field hockey team to an easy 9-2 opening game win over visiting Noble on Saturday, Sept. 1. The Mustangs led 4-0 at the halftime break. Snyder had two goals, with Brianna Stephenson and Kate Mynahan each adding a goal.

Aspen Dyer got the Knights on the board in the second half, but by then the hosts led 7-0 behind two scores from Micaela Jacobs and another from Noelle DesVergnes. Mynahan popped in her second goal to push the score to 8-1 and Anna Snyder boosted it to 9-1 before Alyson Gregoire banged home the final goal with a little over two minutes left to close out the scoring.

On Wednesday, Sept. 5 the Mustangs dropped a 1-0 decision to host Windham after the Eagles (1-1) banged home the lone score of the contest just 30 seconds into the match. Massabesic (1-1) carried the play for much of the contest, holding a wide edge in zone time, but Windham did an excellent job of clearing rebounds and loose balls from in front of their goal.

With time winding down and Massabesic playing with desperation it appeared that the visitors had tied the game just as the game clock hit zero, but a conference between the officials went the way of the Eagles and the potential tying goal was waived off for coming after time had expired.

Massabesic lost to Westbrook in the Class A regional title game last year. In 2016, they topped Westbrook to win the regional championship.

Vacationers return

The best part of leaving home might be returning, but the horrific traffic as we neared Portland made the Williamses wish they had selected a different day to return. Once we had arrived home and seen gardens which had run wild in spite efforts by family and friends to keep up with flowers and veggies, we knew all that mulch might have been too much mulch. Beans and tomatoes waited for the freezer, the largest egg plant I have ever seen was given to the man who came to repair the washing machine, and the York County Shelter also benefitted. But we returned with mackerel for the freezer and warm memories of time spent with my Canadian cousins. We realize how fortunate we are to live in Southern Maine where things are more accessible, although our scenery cannot compare to the Bay of Fundy in New Brunswick!

Alfred notes

Mary Taylor is now in the Memory Unit, Room 235 at Gorham House. When the Storyhour group meets at Parsons Library this week at 10 a.m. there will be an apple project for the morning activity.

with the Federal Aviation Administration and was the Supervisory Aviation Safety Inspector in the Flight Standards Department. Sheppard moved to South Portland in 1972 and retired as a Safety Inspector in 1987. By that time, he held three FAA Airmen Certificates in Private Pilot, Aviation Mechanic and Senior Parachute Rigger. The interment ceremony began with a prayer by Rev. Christine Stanley. In her eulogy, she recalled MSgt. Sheppard as a great storyteller and loved to work on airplane mechanics in High School. In his later years he became a great motivational speaker. She ended by saying MSgt. Sheppard was “a wonderful man and also a wonder-filled man.” He was not afraid to ask questions. The Air Force Honor Guard proceeded to ceremoniously fold the flag and Col. John Thomas, USAF, Ret., presented the flag to Sheppard’s oldest son, Arthur. Col. Thomas told the family Sheppard “honorably served the nation.” Concluding the ceremony, Amazing Grace was hauntingly played on the Bagpipes by Al Halliday. The deceased ashes were placed for interment beside his wife, Lucille, who died in 2006.

Environmental allergies and your pet

Environmental allergies can result due to anything in your pets environment such as airborne pollens, molds, and dust. Blood testing is available and can be reliable for environmental allergies, unlike for food allergies. Allergies in pets can cause skin infections, extreme itching, recurrent ear infections, and chronic anal gland issues.

Treatment for environmental allergies can be given as hypo sensitization injections or oral, oral itch blocking medications or injections, steroids, and antihistamines. Some treatments can have adverse side effects and immunotherapy can take an extended period of time to begin working. If allergies are severe enough it is important to resolve any secondary infections with antibiotics.

Fish Oil that has omega 3 fatty acid, DHA, and EPA can also be beneficial in controlling allergies. Proper flea control can also reduce itching with pets that are suffering from allergies. Allergies can be expensive and frustrating to both the pet and owner.

OBITUARIES

Robert Banks Hamor
Robert Banks Hamor, age 71, of Tilton, New Hampshire, died the evening of Sunday, Sept. 2, 2018 after an ongoing struggle with terminal service-connected illnesses related to his in-country duty in Vietnam. Robert passed peacefully surrounded by close family.

Robert Banks Hamor

Mr. Hamor is survived by his son Sean Sosik-Hamor, his mother Barbara Hamor, his ex-wife Joyce Hamor, and his brother Richard Hamor.

Born in Biddeford on July 8, 1947, Robert enjoyed spending time on Little Ossipee Lake in Waterboro. After his time in Vietnam he owned a Southern New Hampshire photography business and acted as president of the New Hampshire Professional Photographers Association. Once retired, photography followed him as his primary hobby. Touring the Eastern United States and Canada working on personal photography projects from his motorhome was his passion.

Per Robert's wishes, he will be cremated and there will be no funeral service. Instead, a small celebration of life will be planned in the weeks following for close friends and family. Announcement to be made on bobhamor.com.

In lieu of flowers or gifts please consider making a donation in Robert's name to the New Hampshire Veterans Home Resident Benefit Fund. The NHVH is where Robert was taken care of and we can't speak highly enough of their wonderful services.

Thomas (Tommy) Edward Keith
Thomas "Tommy" Edward Keith, 50, of Falmouth, passed away on Sept. 4, 2018 surrounded by family and friends after his courageous battle with cancer.

He began his early years in New Jersey and moved with his family to Maine in 1973. Graduating from Massabesic High School and the University of Maine at Orono, he obtained a Bachelor of Science Degree in Mechanical Engineering in 1990. During this time he made many friends that remained close throughout his life. Tom spent decades as a respected colleague and friend at Hercules and Solenis corporations.

He had a great love of sports, especially football, and was a faithful New England Patriots fan. Tom loved the outdoors and creating adventures with the ones he loved most. Whether it was Jet Skiing on Sebago Lake or snow-mobiling in Northern Maine, he loved it all. Tom was gracious and caring to all who knew him. As a loving father and family man, the impact he left behind is timeless. He never forgot a birthday and picked the funniest card at each celebration. His fondest memories included attending family gatherings and spending time with close friends, of which there were so many.

His parents, Russell and Elaine Keith, daughter, Victoria Keith, significant other, Christie Cantara and her three daughters: Kaylee, Lacie and Mallorie; siblings Janet Keith and significant other Ryan, Karen Haskell and husband Kevin, Russell Keith and wife Pauline, nieces, nephews and many extended family members, all hold him dearly in their hearts forever.

HABITAT HOME

Applicants for the home underwent a rigorous review process by Habitat's Family Services Committee. Applicants must demonstrate a need for better housing and be able to meet income/payment requirements on the new home. The selected family must also put in 400 hours of sweat equity hours by working on the construction of their own home, attending financial management classes, and volunteering with Habitat for Humanity. When the home is completed, families purchase homes through an affordable mortgage that is recycled to support the construction of more Habitat for Humanity homes.

Amy Nucci, Executive Director, said, "Rich and Missy are genuinely excited for this opportunity and what it means for their family. We are thankful for all the donors and sponsors whose generosity has and will help make safe, stable and affordable housing a reality for the Lathrop family."

A three-bedroom home will be built on Kirk Street in Springvale. In early 2018, Habitat for Humanity York County purchased the vacant property by working with Sanford's Land Bank Authority and the property owner. The new home will transform the lot into an energy-efficient, affordable, durable home.

A Walk to Raise the Roof and Pancake Breakfast at the First Baptist Church in Springvale on September 15th will assist in funding the construction of the home and will kick-off construction of the new house. Local Springvale-Sanford businesses including Northeast Credit Union, The Law Office of Jessie Krall, Back to Health Chiropractic, El Mexicano Restaurant, Bowl-A-Rama, Pine Hollow Par 3 Golf, Sanford Elks Lodge #1470, Eastern Propane & Gas, and McDougal Orchards/Hanson Farms are early supporters of the Walk to Raise the Roof. Grants have been received from People's United Community Foundation, Saco & Biddeford Savings Institution, Kennebunk Saving Bank, and Pratt & Whitney. Funding for Habitat homes comes from a variety of sources, including individual donations, sponsorships, in-kind donations, and grants. Habitat is continuing to fundraise and seek in kind donations to meet its goal of $200,000 for the construction of the home.

Habitat has many opportunities to volunteer on the Springvale Build, at the ReStore, in the office or assisting with weatherization. Anyone interested in participating or donating to the Springvale Build is encouraged to call the Habitat office at 985-4850 or visit the website at www.habitatryork-county.org.

BRIEFS

Maine Senior FarmShare has 1,000 openings
Seniors can get $50 worth of fresh fruits and vegetables from local farmers

The Maine Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry (DACF) announced that it has received additional funding from USDA's Senior Farmers' Market Nutrition Program to support its Maine Senior FarmShare Program. These funds will provide $50 worth of fresh fruits and vegetables to an additional 1,000 Maine seniors for the duration of this growing season. The program is for Maine seniors who are 60 and older and meet income eligibility guidelines. Seniors must sign up with a farm by Sept. 21.

Maine's Senior Farmers' Market Nutrition Program, Maine Senior FarmShare, is managed by the Maine Department of Agriculture and supported by partner agencies throughout Maine. It utilizes a community-supported agriculture model to maximize benefits to local produce farmers and low-income seniors. During the 2017 season, participating farmers provided fresh fruits, vegetables, and herbs directly to approximately 17,000 low-income seniors throughout Maine.

Maine's program provides individual Maine seniors with $50 worth of fresh fruits and vegetables during the growing season.

A "share" is $50 worth of fruits and vegetables delivered directly to seniors. Farmers may also have seniors come to their farm, a farmers' market or other distribution sites where seniors can select what they want and "draw down" on their credit balance. Available fruits and vegetables vary from farm to farm, for September through November they may include: squash, corn, apples, beets, broccoli, eggplant, radishes, pumpkins and potatoes.

For additional information, contact: donna.murray@maine.gov or visit https://www.maine.gov/dacf/ard/senior\_farm\_share.shtml.

Seniors can also reach out to their local Area Agency on Aging for assistance by calling the toll free number: 1-877-353-3771.
